

LetsTalkAboutWater

A FILM AND WATER EVENT AT AMSTERDAM INTERNATIONAL WATER WEEK

DE BALIE AMSTERDAM > SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 2019 > 13.30–15.30

FILM PRESENTATION OF:

Thank You for the Rain

A film by Julia Dahr and Kisilu Musya
87mins, color, 2017, English and Swahili

Five years ago, Kisilu, a Kenyan farmer, started to use his camera to capture the life of his family, his village and the damages of climate change. When a violent storm throws him and a Norwegian filmmaker together, we see him transform from a father to a community leader and activist on the global stage. An intimate and powerful film.

“Water knits it all together.”

Richard Hooper, Executive Director Emeritus, Consortium of Universities for the Advancement of Hydrologic Science (cuahsi.org).

“It is the greatest injustice of our time and age that those who did nothing to cause climate change are first and hardest hit whilst we who have done most to cause the greenhouse effect are hit last and least.”

Jan Egeland, Co-chair, UN High-level Panel for Global Climate Services 2009-2010

DISCUSSION WILL FOLLOW THE FILM WITH SURPRISE GUESTS!

LETSTALKABOUTWATER.COM

Let's Talk About Water (LTAW) is a film and water event in existence for over ten years. It brings film and hydrologic science together to spark meaningful dialogue amongst scientists, students, policymakers and the general public. With over 50 events across universities in the United States, Brazil, Uruguay, seven yearly events in the Netherlands, at the Budapest Water Summit, Stockholm Water Week and the oECD in Paris. Our new partnership with the Global Institute for Water Security (GIWS) under the direction of dr. Jay Famiglietti at the University of Saskatchewan in Canada presents a new iteration of our activities:
